

DEATH OF MISS HANAN MAY HIDE REAL MOTIVE OR CRIME

Miss Hanan Died in the Long Island College Hospital Without Having Given Any Explanation As to Why She Was Shot by Mrs. Grace Lawes—Relapse Set in After Blood Transfusion Was Made Friday—Autopsy Revealed That Bullet Had Pierced the Thorax and the Abdomen and Lodged Under the Ninth Rib on the Right Side Beneath the Chest Wall.

New York, Sept. 25.—Miss Mildred Hanan, daughter of the late Alfred P. Hanan, died in the Long Island College Hospital early today without having advanced any explanation as to why she had been shot Friday morning by her erstwhile chum, Mrs. Grace Lawes, who later committed suicide.

John R. Schell, importer and Dartmouth graduate, who was with her when the shooting took place outside the apartment of a mutual friend on Schermerhorn street, Brooklyn, was at her bedside when she came at 4 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Hanan, who was 25, was shot in the chest and abdomen. She was taken to the hospital and a blood transfusion was made Friday. The autopsy revealed that the bullet had pierced the thorax and the abdomen and lodged under the ninth rib on the right side beneath the chest wall.

An autopsy performed by Dr. Carl Reuter, assistant medical examiner, showed that a bullet pierced the thorax and the abdomen and lodged under the ninth rib on the right side beneath the chest wall. The autopsy revealed that the bullet had pierced the thorax and the abdomen and lodged under the ninth rib on the right side beneath the chest wall.

Funeral in Dublin Nine Miles Long

20,000 People Escorted Bodies to Burial Plot—Twenty Priests Present.

Dublin, Sept. 25.—A funeral procession 3 miles long, composed of 20,000 people including 2,000 Irish volunteers, today escorted the bodies of William Roridan and Thomas Howard to the republican burial plot at Ballynash. The bodies of the volunteers were disinterred at Ballynash. The coffins were draped with republican flags. Twenty priests were present.

Cork, Sept. 25.—(By the A. P.)—The Cork city council has decided to forward to the Irish government in Dublin a statement from the commandant at Spike Island regarding the alleged severity of the treatment of Sinn Féin prisoners there.

According to the statement which was read to the city council last night, interned men who were severely disciplined for singing in their huts at night continued their singing Wednesday night as a protest against the order to them to desist.

Would Have the U. S. Cancel Debt of Allies

Proposition Made by J. A. H. Hopkins, Executive Chairman of Committee of 48.

New York, Sept. 25.—A suggestion that American spokesmen in the coming conference on proposed limitation of armaments be authorized to offer to cancel the indebtedness of France, England and Italy in return for agreements on the part of those countries to disarm is advanced in a letter to President Harding made public today by its author, J. A. Hopkins, executive chairman of the committee of 48, after ineffectual efforts to merge with the national Farmer-Labor party, withdrew from the national race with the announced intention of having congressional candidates in the field in 1922 and a presidential candidate in 1924.

Mr. Hopkins in his letter advised submitting to the three great powers in the form of a "ultimatum" the following statement of what he said the United States wants and what this country is willing to concede to achieve its aim:

"We will not cancel our indebtedness until we are satisfied that the other powers will join in so doing and will simultaneously cancel or reduce their indebtedness to the American people to the same extent and in the same ratio. There is, however, no question as to which the American people will consent to cancel or reduce their financial obligations."

"The acceptance of such an offer," the letter continued, "would be economical for all concerned. It would solve the problem and achieve the purpose for which the disarmament conference was called. It would reduce enormously the financial burdens of every nation and relieve the increasing financial pressure which is closing in upon every individual."

PENN. ROAD TO INSIST UPON RIGHT TO OPERATE OPEN SHOP

Announcement Made in Letter From President Rea to the U. S. Railroad Labor Board—Will Not Present Any Oral Evidence at the Hearing Set For Today at Chicago—Mr. Rea Says the Road Asserts and Will Exercise Its Right to Deal With Its Own Employees Without the Intervention of Outside Individuals or Organizations.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will not present any oral evidence at the hearing granted it by the United States Labor Board in connection with the shopcrafts committee election dispute. The hearing is set for tomorrow at Chicago. The company tonight made public a letter from President Samuel Rea to the board in which he states that in view of the fact that the board had declined to hear the company upon the issue of law and fact presented in its application for the hearing and had limited the hearing to three points, the company has decided to present its case in writing. The letter will be filed with the board tomorrow by a representative of the company.

Mr. Rea says the carrier "asserts and will exercise its right to deal with its own employees without the intervention of individuals or organizations whose manifest object is the denial of the fundamental right of employer and employee to deal in the first instance directly with each other respecting wages and working conditions in which they alone are directly interested."

The company on August 24 asked the board to set aside its decision calling for a new election of shopcrafts committee of individuals and working conditions and required hearing to submit oral evidence. On September 13 the board granted the company's request but limited the hearing to three points:

What employees not in the active service of the carrier, such as men on leave, furloughed or absent upon leave, shall participate in the election of committee of individuals and working conditions? Shall the carrier be permitted to offer evidence of the adoption or ratification of its shopcrafts rules by representatives of the crafts fairly selected by a majority of the employees of that class?

Mr. Rea in his letter also says:

"The carrier reminds the board that in its application it asked the board to find in pursuance of the transportation act that the carrier has the lawful right to establish rules and working conditions in the first instance, either with or without first holding conferences with its employees; and that the contract heretofore entered into by the carrier and its employees in the shopcrafts are now in full force and effect without further action on the part of the carrier and its employees in the said shopcrafts. The board has refused to grant a hearing and to make such finding and has in all respects declined to hear the carrier upon the issue of law and fact presented in its said application. It follows, therefore, that there is nothing for the carrier to present in the way of oral evidence on the day fixed by the board, Sept. 25."

"The carrier notes that it is referred by the board to its decision in which the board declares to itself the right to ignore the decisions of the supreme court of the United States determining the respective rights of employers and employees, and decides that 'without unconstitutional legal rights must give way to the board's view of what is just, fair and reasonable as between the parties and the public.'"

"The carrier cannot accept the views of the board, novel and even startling though they may be, and it followed by its latest revolutionary in effect. It does not believe that the transportation act has been devised, or was intended by congress to deprive employers and employees of their constitutional and legal rights as established by the supreme court and other courts of the United States."

"The carrier states finally that it has no decision and is not now desiring the jurisdiction of the labor board to hear and decide such disputes as fall within the purview of the transportation act but it denies the right of the board to decide the dispute as presented and to assert jurisdiction over grievances of whatever kind and character in connection with the employment, the discipline and the discharge of its employees."
